

KEEP LANCASTER
WILD

Susquehanna trillium
Trillium flexipes

Cutleaf toothwort
Cardamine concatenata

Dutchman's breeches
Dicentra cucullaria

Red columbine
Aquilegia canadensis

Squirrel corn
Dicentra canadensis

False Solomon's seal
Maianthemum racemosum

Spring beauty
Claytonia virginica

Virginia bluebells
Mertensia virginica

Help Lancaster Conservancy
Protect and Restore our Natural Lands.

Volunteer or Donate!
www.lancasterconservancy.org

PROTECT NATURAL LANDS

At the Conservancy, our job is to find, fund, preserve, and maintain natural lands in Lancaster and York counties so that the community and visitors to the region can enjoy them for years to come.

RESTORE NATURE

The Conservancy manages more than 50 nature preserves and over 70 conservation easements, over 8,000 acres in total. Our preserves are managed to create habitat for animals, to protect plants and trees, and to provide public access to nature.

ENGAGE OUR COMMUNITY

Through educational programs, volunteer opportunities, and partnerships, the Conservancy engages and activates community members of all ages to protect and restore natural lands.

LANCASTER
CONSERVANCY

117 S. West End Avenue
Lancaster, PA 17603
(717) 392-7891
www.lancasterconservancy.org

Providing wild and forested lands and clean waterways for our community, forever.

Shenks Ferry Wildflower Preserve

Wild geranium
Geranium maculatum
PHOTO: KERRY GIVENS

Help us protect this beautiful preserve!
Leave what you find. Don't injure or remove native plants, natural objects, or cultural artifacts.

Bloodroot
Sanguinaria canadensis

Woodland phlox
Phlox divaricata

Smooth yellow violet
Viola pubescens var. scabriuscula,
Viola eriocarpa

Roundlobe hepatica
Hepatica nobilis Schreb. var.
obtusa

Mayapple
Podophyllum peltatum

Yellow Trout Lily
Erythronium americanum

Golden ragwort
Packera aurea

Jack-in-the-pulpit
Arisaema triphyllum

Shenks Ferry Wildflower Preserve

COORDINATES:
39.902012, -76.366648

ADDRESS:
Green Hill Road, Conestoga, PA
Parking. Kiosk. Trails. Porta-potty.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

- ▶ Closed from dusk to dawn
- ▶ Use of preserve is at visitor's own risk
- ▶ Stay on marked trails
- ▶ Respect our neighbors
- ▶ No camping or overnight parking
- ▶ No motorized vehicles
- ▶ Leave no trace—carry out what you carry in
- ▶ Pets must be on leash
- ▶ No open fires (including fireworks, smoking, and grilling)
- ▶ No alcohol or illegal substances
- ▶ No drones, game cameras, or amplified sounds
- ▶ No taking of mineral, fossil, or archeological specimens
- ▶ No disturbance, removal, or injury of native plants
- ▶ Hunting is only permitted on authorized preserves. PA Game Commission rules and regulations apply and are strictly enforced
- ▶ Events that include 15 people or more require Conservancy approval. See our website for details.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY, CALL 911

Nearest Hospital:
Penn Medicine Lancaster General Hospital
555 N. Duke Street, Lancaster, PA 17602

LANCASTER CONSERVANCY Shenks Ferry Wildflower Preserve Trail Map

Map date 3/14/2023. © Lancaster Conservancy 2023. Data credits: Lancaster Conservancy, Lancaster County, York County, WeConservePA, Chesapeake Conservancy, USGS, Oak Ridge National Laboratory, ESRI. Map is for graphical purposes only. It does not represent a legal survey. While every effort has been made to ensure the data are accurate and reliable, The Lancaster Conservancy cannot assume liability for any damages caused by any errors or omissions in the data, nor as a result of the failure of the data to function on a particular system. The Lancaster Conservancy makes no warranty, expressed or implied, nor does the fact of distribution constitute such a warranty.

Shenks Ferry Wildflower Preserve is renowned as one of the most impressive wildflower sanctuaries in the eastern United States.

MARK KAISER

Tucked into the river hills of southern Lancaster County, over 70 species of wildflowers and 50 species of birds make their home in this sheltered ravine cut by Grubb Run.

This preserve has a long human history spanning thousands of years, from the site of what was a Native American village (now registered on the National Register of Historic Places) to the mills, railroads, and other 19th-century European industries that lined the Lower Susquehanna. In 1906 this was a place of a well-known local tragedy when a dynamite factory exploded, killing 11 men whose graves at a nearby church bear the inscription "our boys."

At over 90 acres, this preserve has a relatively flat and smooth one-mile trail that is welcoming to visitors not familiar with hiking. The wildflower season can stretch from March through June, but the peak season tends to fall in April and May. Because of its regional popularity among botanists, photographers, and nature lovers, the Lancaster Conservancy recommends visiting the preserve during the weekdays during peak season and strongly reminds people to follow all posted rules and regulations to ensure that this fragile and beautiful preserve and the historic resources it protects are not harmed.